OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN KNOX COUNTY

New Series: Vol. VII, No. 31.

BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1917.

The Corbin Times "Or Shame on You Finley"

In a recent issue the Corbin Times printed an article headed: "Shame on you, Finley."

In that article The Times undertakes to take Chas. Finley and The Whitley Republican to task for an article which had recently appeared in the columns of this paper under the heading: "An Amusin' Little Cuss."

Of course nobody who knows Little Crit's habit of writing and printing and paying for newspaper articles puffing and blowing himself—has any doubt as to who wrote the article, "Shame on you, Finley."

But just because the editor of The Times assumes the responsibility for that article and is allowing his paper to be used as a squirt gun by Little Crit we are going to ask him some questions.

Is it not a fact that in the county campaign four years ago The Corbin Times started out for Little Crit for County Attorney?

Is it not a fact that in its issue of May 9th, 1913, it printed an article at the top of its first column on the front page headed, "J. C. BIRD" and which began as follows: "In this issue of The Times is the announcement of Hon. J. C. Bird for the Progressive nomination for County Attorney of Whitley county. No announcement for county office has been made or will be made that will meet with more hearty approval by the good citizens of Corbin than this announcement." And which closed as follows:—"The Times takes a great deal of pleasure in placing his name before the voters for their consideration?"

Of course everybody knows that Little Crit wrote that puffing and blowing. That is his habit.

But isn't it true that before that campaign closed The Times was opposing Little Crit with all its might and printing in its columns articles assailing little Crit's record just like the article which caused it to say "Shame on you, Finley," which article it copied from the columns of The Whitley Republican?

If it is shameful for the Whitley Republican to print such articles, now what was it for The Corbin Times to copy them?

Why didn't it say "Shame on you, Finley," then?

Why didn't it say "Shame on you, Corbin Times," too?

Has it taken The Times four years to find out how shameful it is?

Is that the reason? Or is there another and more substantial one?

Is it, or is it not, a fact that the candidates on the Republican Ticket in that campaign handed over to The Corbin Times $600.00 in cold cash?

If they did, who got that money? Did the editor of The Times?

And if he did, was that the reason The Times stopped supporting Little Crit and went to copying articles from The Republican in opposition to him?

Is Little Crit who thinks he is running for Circuit Judge of this great District the same Little Crit whose record The Times assailed so bitterly four years ago?

Were the things it printed about him true?

If they were true then aren't they just as true now?

If they were not true, why did The Times print them?

Six-hundred dollars, or six-hundred thousand dollars, wouldn't tempt The Times to print an article against a man if it were not true, would it?

If the articles printed in The Times in 1913 concerning Little Crit were true then they are still true are they not?

And if they were true then and are still true, will The Times please explain to the good citizens of this District why it is supporting Little Crit for the high and exalted office of Circuit Judge?

Just in order to refresh The Times' recollection, as the lawyers sometimes say, we will ask if its editor said to Hon. J. C. Lay, of Corbin, that his reason for supporting Little Crit is that should Little Crit be elected The Times would get the county printing?

When The Times has prayerfully considered and truthfully answered all these questions we are willing for the good people of this county and District to say whether should it be "Shame on you, Finley," or shame on somebody else.

That is what it is doing now. And it has turned neither to the right nor the left.

The editor of The Whitley Republican has not sought office either for himself or kinsfolks, though often urged to do so.

"Nobody suspected either The Whitley Republican or its editor of being for sale."

Neither of them has ever asked or ever received a single brownie in money or a single promise of office or patronage—public printing or anything else—for its support.

W. H. McDONALD

The above is a picture of W. H. McDonald, who was a candidate for the Republican Nomination for the office of Clerk of the Knox County Court; he came off the track under a misrepresentation or rather a misunderstanding; he is too poor to think of running Union College Dining Room and Light Plant for the money there is in it; he has been called a fool for quitting the track; he is being urged to run the race through; and the above is a snapshot of him while considering the matter; and, it looks as though he will enter the race, if he does he will not loose a minute of time from now until the election is over.

Both The Whitley Republican and its editor have been fighting to make Whitley county politics clean enough, at least, that a buzzard can fly over the county without holding his nose, and to help the fathers of the boys and girls who are to make the county in the years to come to teach them to depend on being worthy and qualified if they hope to win and not to depend on corruption crookedness and the gang for success.

"They are making that same fight still."

They are opposing Little Crit because they know, as everybody else knows, that he is not qualified and that he is not depending on his qualifications for success, but on the support of the gang who degraded and debauched the politics of the county in years gone by.

They are opposing him because they believe, judged by his past life and record, he is morally unfit for so sacred a trust as the high office of Circuit Judge.

And they believe that, associated as he is with and backed by the same gang who in the past have made Whitley county politics a stench in the nostrils of all good citizens we would have a return of those conditions, should he be clothed with the great powers of Circuit Judge.

Come to see us again Corbin Times, and bring your knitting, and stay all day.—Whitley Republican.—Advt.

Before closing we would stop to say to the good people of this county that The Whitley Republican was organized in 1908.

They will remember that when it was organized primary elections in this county were a farce and a fraud. The machinery of the Republican Party was in the hands of a gang of professional politicians who fattened off of the county and the people.

They called primaries for any old time that suited their plans and purposes and candidates best, sometimes a year ahead, sometimes only a few days.

They appointed election officers to suit their candidates.

They declared men nominated by the people whom the people knew they had not nominated and called men "bolters" who dared to protest against such corruption.

Ballots, which passed through their hands on the way to precincts which they knew were against their pets disappeared and have never, to this day been accounted for. And when a man tried to have their disappearance investigated he was indicted for false swearing and would probably have been sent to the penitentiary had not strong men come to his rescue.

Ballot boxes disappeared from under the very dome of the Court house and were dragged up from the bottom of the Cumberland river years afterward as they dragged for a drowned boy.

"And nobody was ever punished for any of these crimes against the rights of a free people. For the gang controlled the Courts."

Are these things true? Ask yourself that question, Mr. Good Citizen, and see if you cannot recall all, and a dozen times more than we have written.

There isn't a man in this county but knows of some instance of crookedness such as we have mentioned.

The Whitley Republican was organized for no other purpose

Oil Wells In Knox

Esmeldra Co. struck oil in their No. 3 well on the John A. Campbell farm, one-quarter mile south west of Indian Creek Postoffice, at a depth of 404 feet, the sand was found at 399 feet, with a good pressure of gas, which became stronger until pay sand was reached at 404 feet. They drilled 3-feet into the pay, which showed about fifteen barrels on a three hours bailing test, the gas pressure was estimated to be about 25 pounds and would make 30,000 feet per day. As Mr. C. B. Kennedy, Pres. and Supt. of this Company, was not in town. The drillers shut down until he comes in.

The chances are they will have forty or fifty feet of pay sand in that well, as that is about the average thickness of the Jones sand. It looks as though this this would be a good gasoline proposition, which this Company will take advantage of, as they are wide awake and have done much toward the development of this county.

The Southern Oil Company, of Kentucky, are down about 1,450 on the F. D. Sampson lease. They are in the Big Lime nothing showing. On the L. H. Jarvis lease, they have reached a depth of 930 feet. This well will be drilled to the Big Injun sand. On the Fielding Hammons farm, Horn Branch. They have reached a depth of about 500 feet. This well will be drilled to the Big Injun sand also.

Their fourth location has been made on the Charley Bays lease, one-half mile southwest of Cannon postoffice, and they are now rigging up machines preparatory to starting spudding.

The Ohio Oil Company are down about 875 feet on the S. H. Jones lease, near Cannon. This will be a deep test well. In this well they struck salt water at 378 feet with a small show of oil. They had another show of oil at 609 feet, also another showing at 748 feet. The well on the Cole lease, near Cannon, is to a depth of about 280 feet. This than to fight such corruption as that and to restore to the Republicans of this county the right to select their own officers—a right which the gang had taken away from them and was using for its own selfish ends.

That was the purpose for which it was organized.

That is what it has been doing all these years.

well will probably be drilled in about Saturday. This Company bought Root, Hupp and Duff's holdings in Powell and Estill counties. The properties had on them 69 producing wells, and about 6,000 acres of wild cat territory. They have established offices in Winchester, Ky., which will be their headquarters in Kentucky. They will probably have a branch office in Barbourville, in the near future. Messrs. Paige and Thompson, were in town this week looking after their interest in this section.

The Knox Oil & Gas Co. are down 200 feet on their No. 2 location, at Artemus, Brush Creek section. They have the rigging to pump the No. 1 well, on the Perciful tract, in that section on the ground and will rig it up within a few days and go to pumping.

A Company composed of Richmond, Ky. parties, Steve Jones, Tom Vaughn and Elijah Sanders, are locating and moving a rig to the Geo. Jackson lease on Long Branch, near Cannon, and will start spudding as soon as rigged up.

Stewart and Donald, of Kittwinning, Pa., who have been expecting their machine for some time, have received it at last and are moving to the Evans lease, where they will start spudding as soon as they can get rigged up. —J. C. Main.

Valentine

Yesterday Morning May 31, Mr. Jesse Valentine, who lived on Little Richland Creek was struck and instantly killed by an L. & N. Freight Train. It happened somewhere about the Station of Headrick, on the north side of town and the body was at once taken to the L. & N. Depot, where Mr. Charles R. Mitchell, a grandson of Mr. Valentine, was on duty as agent for the company.

Mr. Valentine was 65 years old, he married Katherine Byrley a daughter of Taylor Byrley who is remembered by most all the older residents of the county. To them was born one child, a daughter, Mrs. A. J. Mitchell, who resides on Knox and Depot streets. Mr. Valentine was on the streets here Wednesday, but did not go home in the evening, and his folks did not know of his death until he was delivered to his grandson at the Station. He was a good honest citizen, one who had no enemies, kind hearted to all, and did no harm to anyone and the greatest harm he ever did was to himself. He was buried in the City Cemetery this afternoon. He leaves a wife and one daughter and many other friends and relatives to mourn his loss.

VOCATIONALIZING EDUCATION.

Why not have a Secretary of Education? France, England, Canada, Australia, the Argentine Republic, all have. We have a national bureau of education, but it can do little toward the problem. Two thirds of our children at 14 leave school to rush into practical life poorly trained.

Vocational education is the need. It is time the nation took more serious notice, only a few get through High school and they are trained for vocational life. Our children go out from school not skilled workers in anything, because they had not been trained to make a living the census of 1910 shows 25,000 young men and women held in institutions for young delinquents. Herbert Spencer says, "The ability of a nation against other nations depends on the SKILLED activity of its units, on such knowledge may turn the national fate." We are informed that the one city of Germany, Munich, is training more boys and girls to be practical working citizens in trade commerce, and industry, than all the great cities of the United States. Out of twelve and one half million persons engaged in agriculture in the U. S. less than one per cent have received adequate preparation for it, the same is true of those entering manufacturing and mechanical work. The training of rural youth how to be prosperous and take care of the land is to make them happy and this nation prosperous. The time is here when the school must be a home in which the teacher trains the girls for every duty, and a little spot of ground near where the man teacher gives a good course in all the country boy needs.

This will bring in the influence of the male teacher which is so much needed. It is so now that if you ask a big boy a question, he will answer the man by "yes mam, or no mam" as the case may be. The woman teacher is needed but not all of them should be women, there should be more men. Each has a particular beneficial influence. The whole educational system needs more masculinity in it. More virility is needed some say the cry for pacifism is due to the feminine nature injected into our schools. All that is great in German efficiency was made in the German schools.

The vocational schools work up that mighty force and spirit called "the community spirit." When this takes hold on people great things come to pass. Vocational education to the front.

HOW KENTUCKY WOMEN CAN HELP KENTUCKY SOLDIERS

The First Kentucky needs a thousand recruits to fill its ranks to war strength. Once recruited, these men must be cared for at the front. It is your regiment as well as ours. If its ranks are not filled, Kentucky will fail to do its duty in the country's hour of need. Kentucky has never failed before—it must not fail now.

Knowing that you feel in their name to ask that you help in the recruiting campaign the regiment is now making.

This campaign costs money. To raise it the regiment has enlisted the services of Francis X. Bushmann and Beverly Bayne, the famous movie stars. They will be in Louisville May 28th to lead the ball to be given that night at the First Kentucky Armory. At that ball will be chosen the girl who is to represent the State of Kentucky in the contest of Southern beauties to be held in New Orleans, June 2.

We all know that the most beautiful woman in the South lives somewhere in Kentucky. One purpose of the ball is to find her. The other is that the men of Kentucky shall be first on the firing line in France when the American expeditionary force is sent over. Will you help to realize both purposes?

The terms of the contest are as follows:

How To Win.

The two girls in each county in the state selling the most tickets to the First Kentucky Ball, May 28th, and thereby receiving the greatest number of votes, will represent their respective county at the Military Ball and will be in "The Beauty Class" from which the Kentucky Beauty will be selected for the trip to New Orleans and for a professional motion picture tryout in New York.

From the girls in the "Beauty Class" a Committee of Judges will select the most beautiful to represent the State of Kentucky in the Big Picture Production to be made in New Orleans June 2. Send in orders for tickets, with cash or check or money order, made payable to The Treasurer, First Kentucky Infantry, Armory, Louisville, Ky., and tickets will be forwarded immediately and credit will be given the sender for amount turned in.

Price of tickets—Spectator ticket, $1.00. Admission to the Dancing Floor, one person, $2.00; for couple, $3.00. $1.00 ticket entitles girls to 10 votes. $2.00 ticket entitles girls to 20 votes. $3.00 ticket entitles girls to 30 votes. Address all inquiries to The Treasurer, First Kentucky Infantry, The Armory, Louisville, Kentucky.

WM. A. COLSTON,
Colonel, First Kentucky Infantry.

Registration Day June 5.

According to the Act of Congress approved May 18th, and the Proclamation of the President of same date, every male citizen of Knox county not under 21 years of age and not over 31 years old on Tuesday, June 5th, 1917, is required to present himself at the voting place in his precinct on that date for registration. Those at home of required age who are sick and not able to get to the place of registration may either send their registration card to the registrar of their precinct, or mail same to him in care of the Sheriff of the county.

Those of the required age who are absent from home, can apply to the County Clerk and receive information for registration without having to return to their homes.

Please take notice that every male citizen of required age is required to register. Any one failing is subject to prosecution in the Federal Court and a penalty of one year imprisonment. We county officers and precinct registrars are subject to the penalty for failing to discharge our duties. This registration is not conscription or draft.

No people in this State or Nation have ever been more loyal and patriotic than the citizens of Knox county; and we feel sure that this crisis of our Country every one is anxious to do not only his whole duty, but everything in his power for the aid and defense of his country.

Yours very truly,

Bowel Complaints In India.

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Ia., churches, a missionary from India, told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventative and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occurs in this country. Obtainable everywhere.

Fewer Eggs are required with ROYAL BAKING POWDER

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced with excellent results by using an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following recipe is a practical example:

Chocolate Sponge Roll

1 1/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 squares melted chocolate

2 tablespoons melted shortening
1/4 cup hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

The old method called for 4 eggs and no baking powder

DIRECTIONS—Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Beat whole eggs. Add slowly sugar, then boiling water slowly; add next vanilla, melted chocolate and melted shortening, without beating. Sift in dry ingredients, and fold in as lightly as possible. Pour into large baking pan lined with oiled paper, and bake in slow oven twenty minutes. When done, turn out on a damp, hot cloth, spread with white icing and roll.

Booklet of recipes which economize in eggs and other expensive ingredients mailed free.

Capt. E. D. Dishman, of the "Fighting First" Kentucky Regiment has been very busy in our city this week securing volunteers. The Mountain Boys are responding to the call—and we predict that not many "con-scripts" will go from Barbourville and Knox County. The county's quota is 300. "Rally Round the flag boys, rally once again."

Did you ever stop to realize what a beautiful little city Barbourville is? Nestling on the banks of the winding Cumberland in the foot-hills of the mountains; with our neat and comfortable homes, fine schools and colleges, and extensive green yards—business houses encircling the Court House—"The Temple of Justice" we should all feel proud and take pride in our Mountain City, for a prettier place cannot be found in the blue grass region of Eastern Kentucky. Let us all do "our mite" in helping the Civic League and every movement that tends to make it more beautiful and home-like and thank God that our home is in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky—not only the garden spot but the rose bed of the world.

HAS ENVIABLE REPUTATION

When a medicine is vouched for by hundreds in a state like Kentucky there can be no doubt as to its merits. Kentuckians are not easily led to make public statements about anything. They are inclined to test a remedy thoroughly before placing their O. K. on it.

Therefore Tanlac's originators are proud to point to the hundreds of testimonials given voluntarily by people of the Blue Grass State. Here are a few of the statements:
EDWARDS—Mrs. Belle Phillips: "I suffered from nervousness and loss of appetite. Needed something to build me up. Tanlac brought back my appetite and gave me rest at night."

OLATON—Mrs. Belle Daniel: "Was troubled with my stomach for several years and was all run down. I have used three bottles of Tanlac and am now feeling much better. My appetite has come back and I have already gained 15 pounds."

CLEATON—Mrs. Sue Bobbitt: "I suffered from rheumatic pains, sick stomach, headaches and nervousness, but since taking Tanlac my health in general has improved. I think it is a fine medicine."

CARLINIE—Mrs. Millie D. Laughlin: "I was weak, nervous and restless before I started taking Tanlac, but now I have my strength back and am able to do my own housework again."

MALT—Mrs. Mary L. Howell: "Head-aches, backaches and nervousness, caused by disordered stomach and kidneys, undermined me until I was completely run down. Tanlac, however, has me on the road back to health and I expect to be all right in a short time."

PENICK—W. G. Mays: "Food soured on my stomach and I suffered from heartburn. I was weak and didn't seem to have any ambition. Tanlac has toned up my stomach and strengthened me all around."

Tanlac has built up thousands of people in this state. If you are run down in health get it today, as it will do the same for you.

STATE OF KENTUCKY
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE

Bankfort Ky.,
May 16, 1917.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In view of the present emergency confronting the country, it is of the greatest importance that all those who have dynamite or explosives of any kind for sale, make a record of such sales, as to amount sold, purpose and the person to whom sold, and date.

Attention is called to Section 1374, Kentucky Statutes, which reads as follows:

"Dynamite—Selling or giving without keeping register. That it shall be unlawful for any person to sell, loan or give any dynamite, or caps therefor, within this Commonwealth, without keeping a register of the amount sold, to whom sold, the date of sale, and for what purpose to be used. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense."

It is requested that copies of these records be furnished the County Attorney of the county, and a copy will be sent by him to this office.

By Order of the Governor:
J. Tandy Ellis
The Adjutant General.

Political Power

Mr. Good Citizen:

In kingly countries the king claims that all political power is inherent to him.

Webster defines the word "inherent" as follows:—X" (1) Existing in something so as to be inseparable from it. (2) Naturally pertaining to; innate, the "inherent" qualities of the magnet; the "inherent" right of men to life, liberty and protection. Innate; inborn; native; natural; inbred; inwrought."

Thus the king claims to rule by Divine right over all the people in his dominions. All political power is inborn in him, he claims, and therefore belongs to him, since God created him with it in him.

Thus the king is supposed to own the whole realm, the people, their lives and their property.

We view the matter differently in our own Republic.

Our immortal Declaration of Independence—the noblest document ever penned by merely human hands—says:—"We hold these truths to be self evident, that all men are created EQUAL, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men DERIVING THEIR JUST POWERS FROM THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED."

The constitution of Kentucky, (Sec. 4) declares:—"All power is inherent in the PEOPLE, and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their peace, safety, happiness and the protection of property."

That is the fundamental difference between a Republic, like our own, and a monarchy like Germany, for instance.

"All political power is inherent in the king" they say.

"All political power is inherent in—(belongs to—the people" we say.

In the kingly government the king, in order to carry on the details of his government and have things done which he cannot himself do, loans or delegates some of his power to other men and authorizes each of them to do certain things. He authorizes one man to Judge to try cases and enforce the law.

He authorizes another man to be Sheriff, another to be Clerk, another to be a Prosecuting Attorney, &c., &c., and each officer in the kingdom, from the highest down to the lowest, derives his authority from the king; and every official act he performs is done by virtue of the authority of and in the name of the king.

In our own country it is similar. We have Presidents, Senators, Congressmen, Governors, State officers, Legislators, Judges, District and County and City officers &c., &c., to carry on the details of our government and do the things which the whole people have not the time or the qualifications to do.

And we delegate or loan to each one of these officers, for a definite length of time, so much of our power as will enable him to do certain things for us. We authorize Senators, Congressmen, State Senators and Legislators to make laws for us. We authorize Judges to interpret those laws and to assist in their enforcement. We authorize Governors, Sheriffs and like Executive officers to execute those laws &c.

But from the highest to the lowest—from President down to constable—each of these officers derived, or gets his power to do the thing it is his official duty to do from us, THE PEOPLE and not from a king.

We loan each of them our power for a certain definite time, our power to do certain things for us. And when that time expires that power returns to us and we loan it to some one else.

Thus you see, Mr. Good Citizen, why public office is said to be a public trust and why public officials are said to be public servants.

We, the people, trust them with our power to do, as our servants, certain things for us.

Unfortunately it is too often true that a man whom the people have trusted with power and made their servant proceeds to use that power, not for the good of the people, but for his own private, selfish and unholy ends or to make himself the people's boss.

Indeed we have so often seen a servant of the people play politics in the discharge of, or failure to discharge, his official duties in order to help himself or some friend financially or politically that we have forgotten that he was using the very power the people loaned him against the people who loaned it to him.

Isn't it about time, Mr. Good Citizen, for men like you to begin to ask how a man has used the power you have loaned him in the past before loaning him your power again?

Among all the officials to whom you loan your power you make none so powerful in the District over which he presides as your Circuit Judge.

You clothe him with power to select the juries before whom are tried the rights of life and peace and the rights of property of every man, woman and child in his District.

You clothe him with the power to pass on the admissibility of testimony in all jury cases before him. No doubt many a poor man has lost his home because the Judge ruled out competent testimony favorable to him or ruled in incompetent testimony against him. And no doubt a poor devil is now in the penitentiary for the same reason.

"Oh" you say: "The Court of Appeals is intended to correct that. Yes, that's true—if—if—if the poor fellow hasn't the money to do that, what then?" You clothe the Circuit Judge with power to instruct the jury as to what the law is in every jury case, whether it is only property that is at stake or a man's very life. And no doubt many a man has lost his property or his life because of erroneous instructions by the Circuit Judge, and not having the money to appeal the case.

You clothe your Circuit Judge with power to sit as Chancellor and to hear and decide Equity cases without a jury; and his decision is almost the last word in such cases. That is a mighty power to put in the hands of any man unless he has shown by his use of your power in the past that he is above corrupt or selfish motives.

You clothe your Circuit Judge with power to pass absolutely, finally and without appeal, on every divorce case brought in his District. This is also a mighty power to entrust to any man unless he has shown by his past life that he is above the motive of lust. For many a poor, suffering woman might be tempted to trade her honor to free herself from a brute who is making life a hell on earth for her.

It is certainly a great power he will have to "put asunder what God has joined together."

Fully fifty per cent—one-half—of the suits brought in the Whiteley Circuit Court are for less than $500.00. In such cases there is no right of appeal. The defeated party may ask the Court of appeals to grant him an appeal and that Court may do so if it wants to. But as a matter of fact it seldom does so.

So that the man who brings a suit for less than $500.00 in our Circuit Court may make up his mind that the result of that suit in that Court is the end of it. If the Circuit Judge admits testimony against him that is incompetent, excludes testimony for him which is incompetent, instructs the jury wrong or, by a half dozen sly words, lets the jury know which side he is on, he may lose his case; and it is lost forever.

We have already said that the decision of the Circuit Judge is absolute and final in every divorce case which comes up in his court. He is absolute as to whether a divorce shall be granted, to whom it shall be granted, the sort of a divorce given, the conditions on which it is given and the amount of alimony, if any, that shall be paid.

In the opinion of a prominent attorney who has practiced at this bar for more than twenty years in at least seventy-five per cent—three out of every four—of the suits brought in our Circuit Court the result in that Court is absolutely final and unappealable.

You clothe your Circuit Judge with power to empanel and instruct the Grand Juries whose duty it is to discover and report to him violations of the law against your right of life, your right of liberty, your right of property or against your peace, safety and happiness.

The Grand Jury is your protection against the lawless and violent who would abuse or injure you. If you have been abused in any way in your person and peace or in your property you either report it to the Grand Jury, if it is in session, or you take a warrant against the offender and bind him over to the Grand Jury.

It is entirely possible for the Circuit Judge to prevent a man from being punished who has abused you by either empanelling such a Grand Jury as will not indict him or by making away with the indictment in case the Grand Jury should return one.

We know of a county in which the Grand Juries were empanelled for years solely with a view to prevent an honest and fair investigation of a crime which everybody knew had been committed. And it never was fairly and honestly investigated; and no indictment was ever returned.

We have heard of a case where the Grand Jury indicted a brother of the Circuit Judge. When they made their report to the Judge and filed with him the indictments they had made, the Judge, while sitting on the bench sneaked the indictment against his brother out of the bunch and slipped it down under his leg till he could find an opportunity to stick it in his pocket. It is needless to say that that indictment was never heard of again. He used the power the people had loaned him to do that.

These are some—not all, only a few—of the mighty official powers which you will loan to your Circuit Judge.

But there is still another power your Circuit Judge will have which is not official but which goes with his office.

That is the moral influence he will exert and wield over the minds of the young men and women of his District as an example and object lesson. And that is probably the most dangerous of all great powers he will have.

For, while hundreds of the young men and women of the District may never be in court, either as jurymen, litigant or witness, every one of them—indeed, every man, woman and child in the District—is affected by the spectacle of an ignorant or a corrupt and crooked man occupying one of the most exalted offices within your power to bestow.

The spectacle says to every man, woman and child in the District—preclaims it in tones of thunder, proclaims it all day long, proclaims it as long as he is in office.—"It isn't necessary to be qualified in order to succeed. It isn't necessary to be honest in order to succeed. It isn't necessary to be straight or true in order to succeed. Get there! That's the word—GET THERE. Everybody knows I am not qualified. Everybody knows I am not honest. Everybody knows I am not straight or true. But see how I get there. The people don't care a rap about qualification, honesty, fidelity or truth. Those are simply catch phrases to fool women and children. They mean nothing to grown-up folks."

"LOOK AT ME. DON'T I AND MY SUCCESS PROVE IT?"

Mr. Good Citizen, how long will you sleep?

How long will you be numbered among those who "having eyes see not, having ears hear not and having minds do not understand" the things which most nearly concern you and yours?

Don't you think before you cast your vote for a man for Circuit Judge you have a right to know something of the past life and record of that man?

Indeed, considering the fact that the Circuit Judge will wield such mighty power and influence over you and yours, don't you think you have a right to know all of his past life, private as well as public?

For Jesus Christ Himself has said that a fountain cannot at the same time send forth bitter water and sweet.

It is impossible for a man to send forth a stream of evil in his private life and a stream of good as Circuit Judge.

As a matter of fact don't you think it is your DUTY to know it?

And if you don't know it, don't you think it is your duty to find out what it is before casting your ballot?

Especially don't you think you ought to know how that man has used the power which the people have loaned him in the past.

And do you think that the howls of "Persecution! Persecution! It's right to dig into a man's private life!" from friends of that man ought to keep you from making that investigation?

When you loan your mighty powers to a man as Circuit Judge you, to a great extent, put your own life and family and property in his hands.

In justice to yourself, your family and your property oughtn't you to find out what sort of a man he has been and is?—Adv.

Gregory In the Lead

The race for County Clerk is getting to be much talked of, and it is now only two months until the election and reports from different sections of the county have it that Ben H. Gregory is still in the lead and will be in the lead on August 4th by a large majority.

Ben is one of those fellows who know how to do things and he sure is doing things right in winning this nomination. He is a clean man and will remain a clean man after the election. It is the man who is just the same everytime you see him that is needed for our County Court Clerk as well as for other county offices. Our acquaintance with Ben permits us to say that he will do the things he promises to do. He is not the kind of a man who will tell you anything in order to get you to vote for him but a man who is making a clean race all the way through and a man whose life record is clean and open for inspection and earnestly asks that after the voters have given each candidate the proper consideration necessary to qualify them for this office and after they have done this they will find that Gregory will measure up to every qualification and if you find him to be worthy of this trust then cast your vote for him for County Court Clerk and it will be greatly appreciated.

For the past few weeks careful investigation has been given this race and there is no doubt but that Gregory will win. The voters all over the county are expressing themselves for him. There is no doubt as to his winning. He is making a hard fight His friends are rallying to his support and say that he will be given the largest vote ever given a candidate for this office. He comes as a representative of a large family of staunch republicans who have never held an office but in our opinion Ben will have the honor of representing them for the next four years. Help him win and he will be found in the office at all times, ready and willing to attend to your needs and will do it with pleasure. Investigate this race and you will find that he is the man entitled to this office and he will be a sure winner.—Adv.
